BOYS' PLAY IN IOWA.

The republican politicians of Iowa are naturally somewhat anxious over the continued deadlock in the legislature. The democratic Post makes a foolish statement. The republicans are in control of the state government of Iowa, the democratic governor-elect is left standing in the rain, and cannot even draw his salary. So far as anxiety goes, the democrats are the ones who are on the anxious seat.

But the Iowa dead lock is a discredit to both parties. There is no sense in it. If there are one hundred men in the Iowa assembly, which is the present case, and fifty of them are republicans and fifty are democrats, it stands to reason that neither can elect the entire partisan set of officers for the assembly. In that case there is only one thing sensible that can be done, and that is to make a few compromises. There is no majority to rule, and consequently to vote 50 to 50 is simply a piece of ridiculousness that should not attach to an intelligent and high-minded body of men.

Hundreds of times in the history of railroading have two trains going in opposite directions tried to pass on a single track, and of course there have been demolished engines, wrecked trains, and deaths. So in legislative dead locks, how does either party expect to pass the other when there is a tie? The result of bull-headedness in a case of this kind is wrecking the common sense of the members, and it ought to demolish their political chances for the future. There is no principle of party loyalty that warrants such an exhibition of foolishness as that now seen in the Iowa legislature. When two parties of equal strength in a legislative body meet in a contest for offices, there is only two ways out of the difficulty—either a surrender of one or the other, or a compromise.

The people of Iowa, if they have any regard for the republicans of their legislature, should demand that the members proceed to business, and not throw away the entire winter in showing how stubborn they can be. There is no profit in that kind of foolishness. There is nothing in it that is a credit to the manhood of the legislature.

THE AMERICAN FLAG ON THE SEAS.

In the interest of a non-existent mercantile marine—of a republican policy has swept our ships from every sea—millions of the people's money are to be spent in subsidizing vessels to float the American flag, a flag which once fluttered in every harbor of the world till republicanism was hauled in down—New York Commercial Advertiser.

This foregoing item is from a democratic paper, of course. Why doesn't some intelligent democratic paper tell the story of the hauling down of the American flag on the seas? Why doesn't some really honest democratic paper tell why the mercantile marine of this country is almost swept out of existence? Why doesn't some well-informed democratic historian rise up either in congress or in some newspaper and tell how much the democratic party has done or attempted to do in the line of reviving American commerce?

Probably all of them have forgotten that the democratic rebellion had something to do with hauling down the American flag on the seas. Probably they do not know that over ten million dollars in the way of subsidies was given by England and France last year to carry their flags on all the oceans of the world? Probably they did not know that it has been the democratic policy to favor foreign ships instead of American ships, in carrying American mail. How does any honest democrat expect that American merchant marine is going to revive when the government of the United States in one year paid to foreign vessels over $400,000 for services, and to American vessels only $48,000? Is it any wonder that foreign flags float proudly on merchant ships in all parts of the world while the American flag is hiding itself in shame?

Free raw material will not build ships. Cheap wages are building them by the hundred on the Clyde, and British subsidies, lavished by a generous hand and generous statesmanship, sweeps on the seas to compete with American vessels.

There are amenities in politics as well as in war, and the latter from the Atlantic Constitution will illustrate an interesting point: The reception which was tendered Russell B. Harrison, the President's son, must have been as pleasing to him, as it illustrated the grace of Southern hospitality. The sincerity with which all our people grasped his hand and spoke to him words of welcome and cheer augurs well for the south in which so characterizes the people of this section. As the son of the President, as an elegant gentleman, as one identified with the press, he was given the honor and cordiality which is always the pleasure of Southern people to bestow on worthy strangers.

The south can open its heart and at times can fling away its sectional bitterness with becoming grace, but it doesn't last. The Constitution, reared under the uplifting influence of the lamented Grady, has started well, and when he came north last year and spoke in our large cities, there were no hands that grasped his more cordially than did those of republicans. These incidents are auspicious, and it is an unfortunate thing for the south that there are no more Gradiys trying to mold public sentiment in that part of American Zion.

PLACES FOR THIRTY.

DEBATE ON THE BILL FOR MORE PENSION EXAMINERS.

"The World's Fair Location to be Settled Next Monday—Other Capital News."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—In the House Mr. Chase announced that since the House had accepted a rule contrary to the Democratic view as to what constituted a quorum the Democrats would not insist that morning upon recording their protest against that rule, but would when the occasion arose carry the question to a proper tribunal for determination.

On the motion of Mr. Chandler of Massachusetts Thursday and Friday next were set apart for speeches on behalf of the several cities competing for the world's fair and next Monday for deciding upon the location of the fair.

Mr. Banks of Massachusetts called up a bill to provide for the appointment of thirty additional medical examiners in the pension office. Mr. Banks said the Secretary of the Interior had earnestly recommended the passage of the bill.

Mr. Washington of Tennessee said the bill appeared to be a scheme to get thirty Republicans into office without any draft upon the civil service.

Mr. Richardson of Tennessee opposed the bill as attacking covertly the civil service law. He would vote to repeal the civil service law, but while it stood it should be faithfully observed.

Mr. Springer of Illinois was for the bill because it seemed to facilitate the transaction of pension cases. He favored an early adjudication of pension claims and invited the Republicans to bring on their pension legislation and let him vote on it.

Mr. Blount of Georgia defended the civil service law. His enemies might laugh at it, but the law had been a better class of public servants. Public opinion in this country was progressing and it would go onward and accomplish its purpose finally. The Republican chief executive and the Democratic candidate for the place had both affirmed their belief in the virtue of the law. It held too much place in the American mind to tolerate here for a moment this indirect attack.

Mr. Bayne of Pennsylvania hoped that Republicans would not try to evade the civil service law—they could not afford to do it. He asked to have an amendment inserted providing that the examiners be appointed under the terms of the civil service law.

Mr. Cheadle of Indiana, Mr. Morey of Ohio, and several other Republicans objected to Mr. Springer's request. The yeas and nays were taken upon the passage of the bill, resulting—yeas 109, nays 19—no quorum.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—In the Senate Mr. Sherman introduced a bill providing for an adjustment of Union Pacific and Central Pacific affairs in accordance with the report of the committee heretofore reported.

Mr. Frye moved to have the bill made a special order for the 4th of March next.

Mr. Sherman objected to having it made a special order, suggesting that it might thus be an impediment to other equally important bills and that it would be in just as good a position if Mr. Frye were able to move its consideration at any time.

Mr. Frye said he would withdraw the motion for a special order until after the further consultation with the committee. He gave notice, however, that he should endeavor to proceed to the consideration of it the 4th of March next.

Mr. Chandler offered a resolution which went over, calling on the Attorney-General for information as to the recent assassination of W. B. Saunders, United States deputy marshal for the Northern District of Florida.

The bill to authorize the President to confer brevet rank on officers of the United States army for gallant services in Indian campaigns was passed.

The bill for the admission of the State of Wyoming, having been reached on the calendar Mr. Platt gave notice that he would call it up for consideration at the earliest opportunity.

The education bill came up as "unfinished business" and Mr. Blair resumed his speech in support of it. He occupied about three hours, but did not close his argument.

On motion of Mr. Hale the House amended to the bill to have the statistics of mortgage indebtedness obtained in the next census was non-concurred in and conference was asked. Senators Hale, Davis and Berry were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

JUDGE BREWER'S SUCCESSOR.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior Shields May be Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Harrison will shortly appoint a judge to the Eighth Judicial Circuit to the vacancy caused by the promotion of Judge Brewer to the Supreme court bench. The Kansas and Colorado delegations are working very hard for their candidate, Judge Hale, but are not hopeful of success.

They fear that the President has already decided to give the appointment to Judge Shields, of Missouri, assistant secretary of the Interior. It was at first thought that Secretary Noble wanted this place, and it is known that the President said he could have it if he so desired. The Secretary did not care for the appointment, however, and it is said that he is backing Judge Shields and that the Attorney General has already recommended to the President that Judge Shields be given the promotion.

General Alger Banquet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—General Russell A. Alger, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., was present last night at the annual encampment of the Potomac Grand Army post and made a speech. A reception was tendered him at the conclusion of the exercises, and afterward he attended a banquet given in his honor by the local posts at Willard's Hotel. General Green B. Russell presided, and speeches were made by General Alger and others.

Women Suffragists Unite.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The three national women's suffrage associations have consolidated and at a meeting of the combined organizations last night the following officers were selected: President, Elizabeth Cady Stanton; vice-president, Susan B. Anthony; recording secretary, Rachel Foster Avery; corresponding secretary, Alice Stone Blackwell; treasurer, Jane E. Spofford; chairman of executive committee Lucy Stone.

TRACT AT HIS DESK.

The Bereaved Cabinet Officer Again at His Duties.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary

Tracy took advantage of the bright, clear weather Monday morning, and drove over to the navy department. His appearance there, after a fortnight's absence, was the signal for a slight flurry of excitement.

His office was immediately besieged by callers, both official and social, but he did not see many people. Commander Ramsey, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, was the first man to reach him, and he held a long conversation with him later in the day relative to the affairs of the department, which may have been under the officer's care during the interim. Most of the important matters that have come up for action in the last two weeks have been talked over by the Secretary and the Commander, so that the former has kept well posted as to the affairs of the department. Among his morning callers was Gen. R. A. Alger.

Marking the Graves of Brave Men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Speaker laid before the House a letter from the Secretary of War submitting an estimate for an appropriation of $55,873 for erecting tablets or monuments for properly marking the position of the graves of each of the commanders of the regular army engaged at Gettysburg. It is proposed to erect forty such tablets or monuments.

The President's Trip to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The President will leave here Wednesday morning for Pittsburgh, Pa., to attend the opening of the new library donated to that city by Andrew Carnegie. He will be accompanied by Private Secretary Halford, and probably Secretary Blaine, who expects to be in Washington Friday morning.

DINNER OF THE OHIO SOCIETY.

Celebration of the Organization of the Ohio Company.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Ohio society of New York will hold its fifth annual dinner at Delmonico's Wednesday evening in celebration of the organization of the Ohio company, which was formed at the Bunch of Grapes tavern, Boston, Feb. 23, 1786.

The menu card for the dinner is unique. On the first page appears a reproduction of the old sign which hung over the door of the tavern just below the balcony, upon which appears: "Bunch of Grapes Tavern." The center of the sign is emblazoned with a bunch of golden grapes. The sign-board will be so arranged that it may be lifted, and under this inscription appears: "Ohio company, organized at the Bunch of Grapes Tavern, Boston, Jan. 28, 1786, and a couplet reads:

"One of four, two of sweet,
Four of strong, and eight of weak."

These words are said to have ornamented the bar of the old history. On the back of the menu is a map of the State of Ohio, showing the first settlement at Marietta on the Ohio river, and from being the birth-place of the Buckeye State the tavern has an interesting history. It was within its walls that Trinity church was organized, and the foundation of the first Grand Masonic lodge of America was also laid there. In front of its doors the Boston massacre took place and it was the home of Washington after the evacuation of Boston by the British. Lafayette was entertained at the Bunch of Grapes by citizens of that commonwealth, and the battles of Ticonderoga and Bennington were celebrated within its doors.

Gov. Campbell of Ohio, Brackets of Massachusetts, and Mayor Hart of Boston have been invited to the dinner. Among others who will speak are Chauncey M. Depew, W. T. Sherman, Gov. Abbott of New Jersey, ex-President Cleveland and Thomas A. Edison. On the walls of the dining-hall will appear the names of some of Ohio's renowned sons. Among the decorations will be the State flags from the capitol at Columbus, loaned for the occasion by Gov. Campbell.

WRECKED BY A FIEND.

Terrible Railroad Accident Near Wichita, Caused by an Incendiary.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 18.—The engine and three combination mail and express cars of the Galveston express at 4 o'clock Sunday morning were wrecked near Chisholm creek, six miles south of here, which had been fired by an incendiary and so weakened that it gave way. The passenger coaches were left on the brink. One man was killed outright and nearly a dozen persons were injured. The victims, so far as learned, are as follows: ROADMASTER E. PETERS of Newton, killed. ENGINEER WARD, leg broken. FIREMAN SMITH, leg broken. TOM BARNDOLPH, express messenger, both arms broken.

MISS GAIN of Udell, four ribs broken. JOSEPH ENZER of Topeka, arm broken. EDWARD WINTER of St. Louis, fractured collar bone.

W. F. HACKNEY of Winfield, slightly injured. CAPTAIN CAVANAUGH, bruised and out.

Several other passengers suffered from cuts and bruises. The bridge was 100 feet long and 30 feet high. When within 200 feet of the structure Patrick Peters, the roadmaster who was riding with the engineer, discovered the danger, but before the engineer could stop the train, which was going thirty-five miles an hour, the engine broke through. An instant before Engineer Ward and Fireman Jack Beuter jumped. Peters was caught and horribly mangled. The engine was a total wreck, as were also the tender and three combination mail and express cars. William Carlton, a farmer, who was riding in the engine, was killed last night at 9 o'clock and an hour later saw a fire, but supposed the watchman would attend to it.

CAUGHT COONEY THE FOX.

CAPTURE OF THE MUCH WANTED CRONIN SUSPECT.

Detectives Take Him in at Hancock, Mich.—Other Items of Criminal News.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Patrick Cooney, "the Fox," has just been captured at Hancock, Mich. Cooney is believed to be one of the men who was in the Carlton cottage when Dr. Cronin was murdered. He left the city the day that Cronin was killed and was in Calvary, and has eluded the police ever since.

Ever since Cooney's flight from Chicago an officer has been stationed at Hancock, as that is the home of John F. Ryan. Ryan is the man who sheltered Martin Burke for ten days after the discovery of Dr. Cronin's body, and the police were confident that Cooney would, at some time or other, appear at Hancock. Their predictions have proved true.

Cooney is a powerful man and ex-Chief Hubbard has always entertained the belief that it was he who struck Dr. Cronin as he entered the cottage. The Sunday following the murder Cooney and Martin Burke were together nearly all day. They spent an hour at Pat Cronin's room on North Clark street and about three hours in Matt Danahy's place, corner of Chicago avenue and Clark street. They each bought a shirt that Sunday afternoon at Bacharach's store near the bridge and Clark street, and the clerk who waited on them identified both by photographs as John Hall.

Cooney and Martin Burke were great cronies, both having been born in County Mayo, Ireland. They worked together cleaning sewers on the North side, and every evening they met in either Dolan's or Danahy's saloon.

Cooney is the man who proposed Burke's name in camp 20. They were inseparable friends. The last seen of "the Fox" was on the Sunday afternoon Dr. Cronin was killed. Parties resembling him have been arrested in every State in the Union. The friends of Dr. Cronin and the county commissioners of Cook county offered $5,000 reward for his arrest.

MILWAUKEE'S DEEP MYSTERY.

Dead Body of a Lady Teacher Found Under Strange Circumstances.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 18.—The body of an unknown young woman was found on the tracks of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western railway yesterday morning shortly after 7 o'clock about a half mile south of Whitefish bay. Her body was conveyed to the morgue, and from a note found on her person it is supposed she was a school teacher. The note was written in German and translated reads:

"DEAR WILLIAM: If I could be as I used to be, what would I not do for you? I will have to leave the school. I have seen into this for several weeks. I have held this position so long with hope that I might be able to tell you something better."

There was no signature, but a few almost unrecognizable marks on the other side were deciphered to read: "Dear Miss Bivens, Tenth ward."

The deceased was about 20 years old, with dark hair and rather dark complexion. She was attired in a neat black dress and wore a ring with the initials A. D. engraved on it. The coroner is inclined to think that she did not commit suicide, as an examination revealed no unusual physical conditions.

Last evening the young lady was identified as Mina Diedericks, sister of John A. Diedericks, principal of the Tenth ward school. It is supposed that the letter found in her clothing was addressed to her brother, William, with whom it is alleged she and other members of the family did not live on good terms. That she was found dead on a railroad track nearly six miles from her home and that her body was not so badly mangled has only served to throw the shadow of a deeper mystery over the case. No one can be found to place credence in the theory of suicide.

A BIGAMIST AT 17.

Arrest of a Buffalo Youth Who Has One Wife Too Many.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 18.—George Riehl, aged 17, is charged with bigamy. In December, 1888, Riehl married Martha Kurtz, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Ackerman of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church. He left her in a few months. Some time ago Martha secured a warrant charging him with non-support, but the case did not come before the police court. Early in 1889 Riehl went to work for Mrs. Schick of East Genesee street, and during the time he was employed there he fell in love with a 17-year-old daughter, Lizzie, an exceedingly pretty girl. In June Lizzie and George went through the marriage ceremony at the church of the Seven Dolores and lived together. Riehl tired of his new love and went back to his wife. Lizzie would not have this, and appealed, and George returned only to go back once again. The case of George and Mrs. Riehl got tired of this and applied for a warrant charging her lover with bigamy. George promised to return to his fair Lizzie and be good and true, but she said that she had enough of his perfidy. Lizzie wouldn't listen, and told George to leave her forever. She threatened to have him arrested for bigamy and yesterday morning proceeded to carry out her threat. George and his father hastened after the train Lizzie and appeared at the police court five minutes after the warrant had been issued. Mr. Riehl, Sr., swore out a warrant against the girl, charging her with a violation of that part of the bigamy law which provides for "punishment of consort." He alleges that Lizzie was cognizant of the fact of his first marriage. Both gave bail to appear at the Court of Sessions Wednesday.

KILLED BY HER LOVER.

Miss Mary Dietzen Shot Dead on the Street in Hastings, Minn.

HASTINGS, Minn., Feb. 18.—Louis Sommers, aged 21, between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening shot dead Miss Mary Dietzen, aged 18. The shooting took place on Second street near the depot, and was caused by Miss Dietzen having refused to marry Sommers. A week ago Sommers wanted the girl to walk with him to Prescott and get married, but she refused. Sunday he asked her to take a drive with him and was again met with a refusal.

Last evening Sommers secreted himself on the road, and as the girl passed, accompanied by another lady, a Miss Emma Lind, opened fire. Three shots were fired, each taking effect. The unfortunate girl died a few moments later. The murderer then endeavored to make his escape in the direction of Red Wing. He was followed by Sheriff Ryland and Chief of Police Richard, who arrested him at Red Wing in the morning and brought him here. A mob gathered around the county jail and threatened to lynch the murderer. Sheriff Ryland, fearing mob violence, smuggled Sommers out of a back door and took him to St. Paul, where he was lodged in the Ramsey county jail.

ROBBED BY MRS. LIPPINCOTT.

The Female Financier Victimized Her Sister, Mrs. Haines.

CAMPDEN, N. J., Feb. 18.—A warrant has been sworn out here by P. G. Lippincott of this city for the arrest of Mrs. Julia C. Lippincott, the Atlantic City hotel proprietress who has gained so much notoriety through her long and swindling operations, charging her with robbing Mrs. Lippincott left her home in Medford to-day, her destination, it is said, being Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Lippincott, it is said, passed through this city to-day and proceeded south. She is supposed to either in Baltimore or Washington. Mrs. Haines came to the city and going to the Guarantee Trust and Safe-Deposit company's office unlocked her safe and deposited there all the deeds of her property, bonds, mortgages, and other securities were missing. The only papers she found were receipts from stock brokers issued to Mrs. Lippincott, showing that that lady had dealt extensively in stocks on margins. The securities taken were worth many thousands of dollars. When Mrs. Haines rented her box several years ago she gave Mrs. Lippincott duplicates of her keys. When Mrs. Haines learned a few days ago of her sister's forgeries she demanded that the keys be returned to her.

THE SAWTELLE MURDER.

A Clue That May Help to Unravel the Mysterious Case.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 18.—What will doubtless prove an important development in the Sawtelle murder mystery has been furnished by Mrs. Charles Richmond, who, upon taking up a Boston Sunday paper, saw the picture of "Dr. Blood, who is strongly supposed to have been implicated in the taking off of Hiram Sawtelle."

"Why, I know that man," she said. "He called here a week ago to-day. It was in the afternoon. He asked for a shaggy old dog, but when I told him I had one, but when I looked at his face I refused to give him one. He had two bundles—one done up in wrapping-paper; should say it might have been a newspaper, about the size of a man's head. He took just like the picture of Dr. Blood. I sent him to Mr. Hall's."

KILLED BY WHITE CAPS.

Brutal Murder of a Woman by Outlaws in Maryland.

FREDERICK, Md., Feb. 18.—A party of masked men, posing as white caps, surrounded the house of Denis Davis, colored, at Brook Hill, a few miles from here, last night, and calling for Mrs. Rebecca Bruchly, a white woman, they accused her of undue intimacy with Davis. A revolver was exploded by some one in the crowd and the bullet struck the woman in the left breast below the heart, fatally injuring her. None of the parties to the shooting have been identified.

A Murderous Saloon Keeper.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 18.—At Georges ville, a village ten miles from here, George Ryan, a saloon keeper, shot Rolly Stephens through the chest, killing him instantly. The ball, after passing through Stephens' neck, struck Napoleon Suver, a bystander, wounding him severely.

CORBETT WHIPS KILRAIN.

The Baltimore Slugger Defeated in a Six-round Mill at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 18.—The fight here last night between J. J. Corbett, of California, and Jake Kilrain, who was defeated by Sullivan, is the sensation of the hour. It was the best contest ever fought in this city, and was not less exciting and the big mill between Jake and the world's champion last July.

The battle took place at the Southern Athletic club, a tony organization of New Orleans, and was watched by six rounds for scientific points. Corbett has licked several prominent men out in California, besting Joe McAuliffe for scientific points, and is a handsome young fellow 24 years old, and somewhat taller than Kilrain. He weighed last night 183 pounds, while Kilrain tipped the beam at 201.

The fight was a savagely hot from beginning to end, and Corbett, who only one in the six rounds that were fought. He won the fight, proved himself a cool, magnificent, and wonderfully scientific fighter, and blackened both eyes of Kilrain.

Marion Harland.

The celebrated authoress, so highly esteemed by the women of America, says on pages 103 and 145 of her popular work, "Eve's Daughters, or Common Sense for Maids, Wives and Mothers:"

"For the aching back—should it be slow in recovering the normal strength—An Alloco's Form Plaster is an excellent remedy. It combines the qualities of the sustained pressure of a strong warm band with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of weakness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an ALLOCO'S FORM PLASTER constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support, whereas the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLOCO'S and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

NEW REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A Racin' Woman Thinks Her Twenty-one Days Fast Has Cured Her.

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Burritt, wife of the superintendent of the Belle City street railway, who commenced a fast of twenty-one days, finished the twenty-first day last evening. Mrs. Burritt had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for years, and upon the advice of her physician began her fast. She is in good health, and has suffered but little by her deprivation of food. Her disease has been cured, but whether or it will be permanent can not now be told, but it is thought she will never again be troubled by it. She will be given nourishment in very small quantities to-morrow, and three weeks will be required before she will be able to resume her regular diet.

A Bank Forced to Close.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 18.—The Lincoln National bank, which has been plundered by Cashier Bard and F. W. Hull, has closed. Under the orders of Bank Examiner Greene, it is reported this morning that the defalcation is much larger than the first estimate, which placed the amount at between $30,000 and $40,000.

Take Care! There is Danger.

In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to go through neglect. The deadly disease of Bright's disease is likely to be introduced into the system, and will wreck the goodly bark of health if it is allowed to drift rudderless upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the beam toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs with the best of the blood, and expels them, two effects to be apprehended from the unmediated stimuli largely resorted to. These have a tendency to react detrimentally. The bitters invigorates the kidneys and bladder, in common with the rest of the digestive organs, and so afford lasting aid. It also affords dual assistance in preventing and curing intermittent and remittent fever. Biliousness, constipation and rheumatism also subjugates.

THE GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER TO PARNELL'S INQUIRY.

Lively Debate in Prospect Over the Report of the Commission—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—In the House of Commons Mr. Parnell asked for information as to the government's intention regarding the report of the special Parnell commission.

The Rt. Hon. W. H. Smith, the government leader, said the government intended to ask the House to adopt the report and thank the commission for its just and impartial report. Mr. Smith's answer was greeted with cheers, counter-cheers and laughter.

He also said that the government would ask the House to enter the report in the Journal. (Cries of "Oh! Oh!") He further said that he hoped, subject to the progress of business in the House, to make a motion on Monday next to carry out the government's intentions.

The avowal of the government that it proposes to take action on the report of the Parnell commission beyond proposing a formal vote of thanks to the Judges is regarded in political circles as equivalent to a confession that the report is valuable, that it is a party weapon. Home Rulers will not oppose the vote of thanks but will propose to add a rider to it declaring in effect that the report has entirely vindicated the Irish party and that the government will give rise to a lengthy and animated debate. Lord Randolph Churchill stated to a friend that the commission proved mainly except what the Parnellites could have desired.

Pope Leo Visits His Dying Brother.

ROME, Feb. 18.—It is said that Pope Leo went beyond the precincts of the Vatican for the first time since he constituted himself a prisoner there to visit his dying brother, Cardinal Pecci. He drove to the Barberini palace in a plain coach, and arrived at the bedside, and was much affected, as was the dying man. He bid him an eternal farewell and returned to the Vatican as he had come, quietly and unobserved.

Corvella's Sentence Confirmed.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 18.—The appeal court, to which was carried the case of M. Corvella, the proprietor of the cartridge factory at Antwerp in which the disastrous explosion occurred last September, and who was sentenced to four years and six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 2,500 francs for committing the crime by imprudence, has confirmed the sentence originally imposed.

They Saw Dr. Peters' Lieutenant.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The safety of Dr. Peters is placed in doubt. It now appears that the French missionaries who reported that they saw the Doctor alive and well mistook for him his Lieut. Bochart, who was bringing up the rear of the expedition. Lieut. Bochart was one of the first to return after the massacre of Dr. Peters and party.

Dom Pedro's Mind Affected.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The Paris correspondent of the News says Dom Pedro's nervous disease increases and partly unhinges his mind. He lives in daily expectation of being recalled to rule Brazil, and does not realize the precarious state of his own finances. He refuses to reduce his Imperial suite and maintains his expenses on a grand scale.

Two Steamers Collide.

QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 18.—While the new Liverpool steamer Arethusa was entering this harbor she fouled the British steamer Parthenon, Capt. Bristow, from London, Jan. 17, for New York, which put back here with her propeller gone, and carried away the latter's mizen topmast. The Arethusa afterward grounded.

Miners Threaten a Strike.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A general strike of coal miners in Great Britain, affecting 100,000 men is apprehended, owing to the demand for 10 per cent. increase of wages, to which the men propose to adhere. Such a strike would cause a decrease of 75 per cent in the British coal output.

Portugal's Ministry Disturbed.

LISBON, Feb. 18.—The ministry is much disturbed at the apparently increasing strength of the republican cause. Many signs indicate a steady growth of anti-monarchical agitation, and that the end of monarchy may come at almost any moment.

Socialists Attack a Meeting.

BERLIN, Feb. 18.—The Socialists attacked a meeting of the German Liberals at Liegnitz, in Silesia. The police interfered and many persons were wounded.

Many were hurt in making the jump.

What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

OUR STOCK OF HORSES.

Some of the Fine Imported Draft Horses for Our Visitors to Inspect.

THE GALAXY OF FAST TROTTERS AND ROADSTERS.

Some of the Animals that Will be Exhibited in the Cavalcade to-morrow Afternoon.

Few of our citizens are aware of the magnitude of the horse importing and horse breeding interest of Janesville, or of the importance of this great industry in advertising our growing city throughout the northwest. Outside of Rock county few if any of our commercial or city residents are known, but all over the great northwest and west the firm of Galbraith Bros., Bowles, Hadden & Co., Reid Bros. and other minor importers are familiar names to the reading public, and associated with their names is "Janesville, Rock Co., Wis." Not only our importers but our breeders of the light harness, coach and road horses also do much to advertise the superior advantages which this section of southern Wisconsin presents for breeding, rearing, and developing their particular line of stock. Prominent among the latter class may be named Mr. H. D. McKinney, widely and popularly known as the secretary of the Northwestern Breeders Association, of which Hon. John L. Mitchell, of Milwaukee, is president; Mr. B. S. Woodruff is also widely known as a successful breeder, having owned "Joe Bassett," the sire of the celebrated fastest pacer in the world, "Johnston." Mr. A. W. Longley, of Chicago, has a very snug little farm near the city upon which he has several fashionably bred animals. Of the importers and breeders of heavy draft horses are Messrs. Galbraith Bros., Bowles, Hadden & Co., Reid Bros., Hunter Bros., and James Hopkins & Son. All these firms have recently issued neatly printed catalogues giving descriptions of their animals and the excellence of their stock.

The Gazette, in order that our people, as well as the visitors who will be in our city this week attending the annual meeting of the Press Association, and those attending the Farmers' Institute next week, may form some idea of the magnitude of the horse importing and breeding interest, has carefully collected a few facts which will be of value to all.

Galbraith Brothers.

The firm of Galbraith Bros. is one of the oldest institutions of the Bower City. Mr. Alex. Galbraith, the senior member of the firm, is now serving his third term as president of the American Shire Horse Association, and is known throughout the United States as one of the best judges of the class of horses which his firm imports. The firm of Galbraith Bros. was established in 1836, one year ago, and during that time they have imported and sold no fewer than seven hundred and fifty stallions, the aggregate value of which amounts to $1,125,000. They now have on hand one hundred and forty-five imported stallions in addition to some home bred horses. They also have a large number of mares and about thirty head of miscellaneous horses. The Galbraiths only breed to a limited extent in this country, their great breeding farm being located at Killbuck, near Glasgow, Scotland, where they keep one of the choicest studs of brood mares in that country, at the head of which stands the celebrated prize winning Clydesdale stallion "Lord Ailsa." While this firm makes Clydesdale and English shires a specialty, they also handle Suffolk Funches, Hackneys, and Cleveland Bays, and in each of these five breeds have repeatedly taken the highest prizes at Chicago shows in competition with all the other large importers. Two years ago their shire stallions "Caractons" won the grand sweepstakes prize at Chicago in competition with all other draft breeders, Percherons, French draft and Belgians included. During the last five years they have won no fewer than fifty-three prizes for Clydesdales at Chicago, and seventy three per cent of all the first premiums ever offered for English shire stallions, a success not even approached by any other firm on this continent. The Galbraiths import from seven to twelve times annually, out at all seasons of the year through their resident purchasing partner in Europe. Their customers come from Pennsylvania in the east, and from Oregon and California on the Pacific coast. They always keep about thirty head of stallions in their city barn, located at 123 East Milwaukee street. This barn is undoubtedly one of the largest in the state, being 75 feet front on East Milwaukee street by 195 on Division street. Here they keep a large force of men for the purpose of showing their horses to visitors, who are always welcome. The remainder of their stock is cared for on their farms—one known as the Rager farm, on Rager avenue, just outside the city on the east, and the other at Emerald Grove. On the Rager farm they have four large barns, two being 60x150 in size, and here nearly every horse has a commodious box stall. There are also several large paddocks of about a half acre each where the horses take their daily exercise in stormy weather. On the Emerald Grove farm of 440 acres there are some more horses, and a fine herd of about fifty pure bred Hereford cattle. The Galbraiths will make a grand show of their choice horses on to-morrow afternoon during the horse cavalcade, it being their intention to show as many horses as they can provide with groomers. They give the members of the Press Association a special invitation to call at their city barn and inspect their stock. All will be made welcome.

Bowles, Hadden & Co.

This firm commenced the business of importing a small way in 1884, bringing over in that year four fine specimens of the Percheron draft horse. Now they import annually upwards of one hundred head of Percheron, Coach and English shire horses, and have a large number of the finest animals in their barns. This firm is located in their large three-story brick barn at the corner of North Bluff and North First streets. The barn is 120x14, and the horses are provided with large box stalls on two floors—four head being accommodated here. In the rear of the brick barn, on North First street, their second barn is located, being 62x128 feet in size, and is provided with box stalls for the accommodation of forty-five head of horses. The Percheron is a great favorite with this firm, and they take a commendable pride in keeping on hand a large number of the finest animals to be found in the old country. They now have on hand a large number of horses, and are making almost daily shipments to their customers in all parts of the country. Messrs. Bowles, Hadden & Co. will show from twenty to thirty head of their stock in the grand cavalcade to-morrow afternoon. They have a neatly printed catalogue of their stock. The members of the Press Association will be welcome to visit their barns at any time—Reid Bros.

This firm have their barn located on North Bluff street. They also have four barns on their farm. They are practical horsemen and have been engaged in the business in the city three years. Before removing to Janesville they were engaged in the breeding and importing choice Polled Angus cattle in Iowa. They still have one of the best herds of Polled Angus cattle in the county, headed by imported "Machern," at a cost of one thousand dollars, at their farm in that state. Here they are engaged in the importation of English shires, Clydesdales, Cleveland Bays, Hackneys and Shetland ponies. They now have on hand fifty fine imported horses and twenty Shetland ponies. Their annual importation is about seventy horses. On their farm they have two large barns, 200x50 feet, that will accommodate fifty horses each; two small barns that will accommodate ten horses each. The city barn will accommodate twenty-five horses. They have some very fine stock among other London prize winners; and also prize winners at the late Chicago show.

Hunter Brothers.

On the sand-hill of Division street, near East Milwaukee street, are located the stables of Hunter Bros. This firm is from Wigtownshire, in south of Scotland, and import their native bred Clydesdales, bought principally in Wigtownshire, the greatest breeding district for Clydes in Europe, being the birth place and breeding stands of a large number of the prize winners of this class of animals. Messrs. Hunter Bros. combine with their import trade an export of the best class of coaching horses to Scotland. As importers and also as exporters they do a double service to the country, and should receive liberal encouragement. Their barn is conveniently arranged, is 60x32 feet and will accommodate 20 horses. They import forty horses a year—all Clydes. They also export about one hundred a year. They have been located in Janesville about two years, coming here from Scotland where they were engaged in buying horses for shipment to this country. They will have twenty Clydes in the grand cavalcade to-morrow afternoon.

James Hopkins & Son.

This firm has been in business about four years, three of which was in the town of Center on the farm of the senior member of the firm. One year ago they erected the large fire-proof barn—40x73 feet—at the corner of North Academy and Wall streets. They have accommodations for sixteen to twenty horses, and make a specialty of English shires, Cleveland Bays and Yorkshire coach horses. They have now on hand sixteen fine specimens of this class of horses, and their importations average about thirty each year. Messrs. Hopkins will appear in the grand cavalcade to-morrow afternoon with as many of their horses as they can find time to handle.

Pollock & Graham.

This is a new firm in the city, having arrived here in December. Their barn is located on East Milwaukee street, and is 62x25 feet, with accommodations for ten horses. They also have several horses on their farm in the town of La Prairie. They import chiefly English shires and Clydesdales, and now have some fine blooded stock in their barn. The firm, though young, is composed of good material, both partners being "antlers."

H. D. McKinney's Stock.

Passing from the heavy draft stock, the Gazette will now mention some of the lighter class of horses, the fine "steppers" or road and carriage stock, for which Janesville has a reputation. Mr. H. D. McKinney has just issued a very neat and attractive catalogue of his stock, and we confess to no little surprise to find embodied within the covers no less than eighty-nine very valuable animals. "Phallmont" heads the procession, and is a name now familiar to all local horsemen, as well as throughout the state from the victorious performances of his progeny. No. 2 in the catalogue is "King William I," and he is half brother to the $50,000 "Axtel." More than $5,000 has been offered and refused for this youngster within the past few weeks. A son of "Nutwood" and his dam, "Geo. Wilkes," is another that would take many thousands to buy. A full brother to the dam of "Nutwood Wilkes" sold recently for $15,000. We find also among the noted animals three other highly bred members of the great "Wilkes" family. In fact, the catalogue is full of interest to trotting horse fanciers, and we would advise them to send for a catalogue. Mr. McKinney informs us his investment in horses alone exceeds $30,000, and he considers his collection fully as good as some costing five times that sum. Several specimens of Mr. McKinney's stock will appear in the cavalcade to-morrow.

Buckleton Stock Farm.

is owned by Mr. H. S. Woodruff, the inventor and manufacturer of the well known Champion Trace Buckle. This farm contains nearly three hundred acres of land, one hundred of which is inside the western limits of the city, one-half mile from the post office. The buildings, consisting of three large barns and the residence, are located in close proximity to each other on a slight elevation, and are reached from the front of the farm by a quarter of a mile drive between two rows of red elm trees. The water supply is furnished by two never failing wells with windmills and large brick reservoirs from which the water is conveyed in pipes to the stables, yards and adjoining fields, always furnishing an abundant supply of pure spring water. Taken altogether, the Buckleton Farm with its rich pastures and shady groves, is one of the garden spots of Southern Wisconsin. It is devoted to the breeding of trotting and road horses which have become as much a necessity and pleasure as the heavy draft horse for the slow heavy hauling.

In 1884 Mr. Woodruff purchased the stallion "Joe Bassett," sire of the great "Johnston" 2:30 1/4, and others, placing him at the head of his stud where he remained up to his death in May, 1889, leaving a number of fine colts. At the death of "Joe Bassett" his place in the stud was taken by one of his best colts, "Forrest Besset," whose dam was the Carey mare, Jam of "Johnston" 2:30 1/4; "Brother Dan" 2:23 1/2, and "Joe Bassett, Jr." trial 2:25, by "Ned Forrest," son of "Edwin Forrest;" "Forrest Bassett" being a full brother to these horses.

The other stallions at Buckleton Farm are "Canton" and "Alessandro." "Canton," while he is a standard bred horse with strong "Hambletonian" crosser, in size and style is a fine type of the coach horse. He is a well proportioned dark bay, with black points, very showy and lofty carriage, with good free trotting action and at three-year-old stands 16 1/2 hands high and weighs 1100 pounds. He was sired by "Geo. Sprague," 2:21; dam by "Eochanter," son of "Administrators," by "Hambletonian," second dam by "Washington Hambletonian," by "Robert Bonner," by "Hambletonian," third dam, the dam of "Satellite," sire of "Saturn," 2:22, by "Morgan Champion."

"Alessandro" is a young pacing stallion by "Geo. Sprague," 2:21, son of "Gov. Sprague," 2:20 1/2; dam by "Dan Brown," 2:32, sire of "Johnny B," 2:24. He is a stout built, muscular horse of the "Morgan" type. He has a three-year-old record of 2:34 1/2, made last fall, and made a quarter in 32 1/2 seconds, a 2:10 gallop, which is equal to the best quarter by the great "Axtel," and nearly equal to the best quarter made by "Johnston."

There are at Buckleton Farm one hundred head of breds, the brood mares having been selected for their individual merits from the best trotting strains.

Visitors to the city should not fail to inspect this fine farm and splendid stock. Among Fanciers.

L. Roy Holloway has several standard bred mares and young fillies and colts. Also, a very promising son of Van Etta's "Nestor," and a four year old filly by "Phallmont," for which he has refused $800.

Fred Stillson has two daughters of the noted stallion "Nutwood," whose trial service is $500. Also, the champion two-year-old trotting filly (sired by "Phallmont") that made a two-year-old record of 2:48 1/2.

A. E. Precker has secured a number of fine bred mares, and will exchange quite extensively in breeding a high class of trotting and road horses. At the head of his stud is a handsome son of "Nutwood."

E. W. Fisher is one of the largest breeders of trotting, carriage and road horses in this vicinity. His selection of brood mares has been made with good judgment; his young stock is principally of "Phallmont," "Sprague Mambrino," and "Meck Almont." He has about forty head.

Will Davis has several highly bred colts of "St. Paul" and "Phallmont."

Frank L. Smith has a very fine collection of well bred stock on his farm, near the city, at the head of his stud is "Massasoit," record 2:30 1/4 at 4-year-old, by "Phallmont."

There are a number of very fine animals of the trotting, road and coach class owned by individuals in this city, many of which will appear in the grand cavalcade to-morrow afternoon, among the number being Mr. O. F. Nowlan's black pacer "Blizzard," capable of showing his heels to the best of 'em.
